Weather Tips

1,500 people are killed on average in the US each year due to the heat. This is more than tornadoes, lightning, hurricanes, and all other weather events combined.

Make sure to know what heat advisories or warnings are issued for your community. Excessive Heat Warnings are issued when the conditions are an imminent threat to life. Heat Advisories are issued when conditions are expected to cause significant discomfort or inconvenience, and if caution is not taken, may be life threatening.

What to do or not to do during hot weather: Slow down, and reduce strenuous activities. If you have outdoor chores, do them in the morning or evening instead of mid-day. Drink plenty of water, if you have to be outdoors for extended periods, try to stay in the shade. Make sure to use a high SPF sunscreen. Try to spend most of your time inside an air-conditioned building. Do not leave anyone in the car, including pets or children, of any length of time. A dark interior can cause temperatures in your vehicle to reach temperatures from 180 to 200 degrees F or higher!
